COMMITTEE NOTES - MARCH 2023

1. Well here we go again, AGM is over and guess what, I'm still here! Surprise, Surprise. Come on you people, I do need an Assistant Secretary, please think about it. I wish to thank our new Vice President, Denise, who took the minutes of the Committee Meeting, due to both Jim and I attending a funeral. It's times like this we need an Assistant.
2. As has been the case in the past, the Immediate Past President will be seeking Members to act as Observers at Committee Meetings. Meetings are held the week following our General Meeting, and it is a way of seeing the work done in the background, who knows, you may like to take on a Committee position in the future.
3. Mal and his Committee are doing a great job organising day excursions, and some future tours.
4. Mal has requested the purchase of a magnetic whiteboard to display functions etc.

Pt Kembla visit March 2023

35 Probus members had a scenic train trip to Port Kembla on a hot sunny day. A delicious lunch & cooling beverage at the inviting Coniston pub went down a treat. Great organising by the pub staff and tour staff meant the day ran very smoothly.

We had two options.

One was a bus tour of the port. There was an introductory video before commencing the tour which gave us an idea of the size of the port. It is enormous.

All cars imported into Australia come via Pt Kembla. We saw wind turbines (both the blades and the towers) cars wrapped in plastic & train carriages in bubble wrap all waiting to be moved on. Wheat, coal, cement, canola and cruise ships are all moved through Pt Kembla.

New Gas & Hydrogen projects are being built for our energy needs. And the port is 90% owned by local Super funds. We visited two viewing sites which revealed both the enormity of the port and beautiful beaches which looked so tempting on such a hot day.

Thanks to the meticulous planning from Mal, Suellen, Lula and Yenda the day went like clockwork.

The steelworks tour began with a short video explaining the process of making steel.

We were then kitted out in a long-sleeved coat, protective glasses, hard hat and earphones before being driven to a set of stairs which were climbed to enable entry to a huge Foundry (Basic Oxygen Steelmaking) just in time to see red-hot liquid added to a “witch’s cauldron” of molten iron. Old washing machines, vacuum cleaners, microwaves & other scrap is added to the beginning of the process.

After a while oxygen is then blown into the cauldron while flames, silver sparkles and red slag keep spitting out of the top. It was very hot. We then walked the gantries to the area where red hot iron is expelled from lots of rollers to make slabs of steel.

Unfortunately, there was a break-down in the Hot Strip Mill where the steel is rolled down to a thickness of 3-5 cm at 60 km/hour before being collected into large coils. It was all extremely interesting.

UPCOMING SPEAKERS

APRIL 2023

Our speaker this month is Ross Clements.

Ross was a National Teacher within many Engineering Colleges attached to Telstra and on retiring tutored high school students in Science, Maths and Chemistry.

He was President of a Model Makers Club and today is the Speaker Organiser for the Brookvale Probus Club (so he knows all about lining up Speakers)

He has been invited by other Probus Clubs to be their Guest Speaker as he has a large range of subject titles in his portfolio.

In view of the commitment by State and Federal Governments of all persuasions to reduce the use of fossil fuels we have asked Ross to talk about renewal energy- its generation by Hydro, Thermal, Solar, Nuclear etc.

He may also talk about the storage of such energy by battery or Hydrogen.

MAY 2023

Matt Murphy

At school, Matt Murphy failed English and couldn't see the point of history. He became a fireman and has been serving in Sydney's inner city for 33 years. He is now also a part time historian and teacher, tolerating the attitudes of kids towards history that he used to share. His previous book, Weight of Evidence, is about what was the longest civil court case in New South Wales. Matt's younger self would be aghast that he is now writing history books but be consoled by the absurdist voice old Matt has achieved. Matt also can't believe he has to write his own bio.

Australia and its formation - through the distorted view of a rum bottle.

Could the Rum Rebellion have been averted if Major Johnston wasn't hungover?

Would the Eureka Stockade have been different if the rebels weren't pissed?

How were prisoners to get drunk if Macquarie closed the only pub in the gaol?

And why should sailors under fourteen be deprived of their sixteen shots of rum per day?

These are just some of the questions raised in Matt Murphy's account of Australia's colonial history. Brimming with detailed research and irreverent character sketches, Rum looks at not just how much was drunk in colonial Australia (a lot!), but also the lengths people went to get their hands on it, the futile efforts of the early governors to control it, and the often disastrous and/or absurd consequences of its consumption.

Those consequences aren't just in our past. Murphy goes beyond foundation stories to look at the legacy our love affair with alcohol has created, from binge drinking to lockout laws and from prohibition to urinating on the parliamentary carpet.

So, here's to Rum, for making bad decisions look like a good idea at the time.
